Hiking Trail and Remarkable Places

In A.N.P.I.L. hiking trails run across the park for about 18 Km, they are practicable during all the year and provided with didactic-touristic signposting and panels

THEMATIC TRAILS

Didactic Trail in the Beechwood

Created by the students of Montaione middle school, it gets through a wild beechwood part, where yew trees and holly grow all together, reaching one of the purest stretch of Carfalo brook.

There are panels and noticeboards where you can get information about the main naturalistic emergencies in the park.

Trail of Monumental Yew Tree

Ring trail going down to the abyss where the oldest tree of the valley dwells since more than 500 years

Trail of Bends - Sparkling Water

This is a ring trail getting to the depths of the park, where Carfalo creates steep slopes with yellow sand and the brook becomes a tortuous and recessed maze, reaching the Spring of Sparkling Water

Trail of Pleasant Wood

This is a slight slope trail, it branches through a part of the park far from the cutting down of trees, so common in last years, therefore you can enjoy a walk in a shady and tall forest there.
